CAR MEN CALLED TO ORGANIZE UNION TONIGHT.

Printed Invitations Handed out to All Employees of Car Company.

Meeting Is to Be Called to Order at 1 a. m. by Organizer Currie.

Union Man Says They Are Willing to Work With Non-Union Employees.

VERY motorman and conductor in the employ of the street railway company has been invited to attend a meeting at room 4 in Federation half at 1 o'clock tomorrow morning to organize a union.

Printed cards announcing the meeting have been distributed to all who are interested. The card says that the meeting will be called to order by R. E. Currie, organizer for the American Federation of Labor. C. O. Pratt of Cleveland O one of the international officers of the Street-Car Men's union, will explain the workings of that union, and officers of the local union will be elected.

Mr. Pratt said yesterday that he had received favorable responses from at least 175 out of 250 employees of the company, and felt sure that there would be a large attendance at the meeting.

"What will be the attitude of your organization toward men who do not wish to join the union?" was asked.

"We will let them join or not, as they choose," said Mr. Pratt. "So long as the company does not discriminate against members of the union we will make ro effort to unionize the system We do not want any trouble; on the contrary, we want to avoid it, and to make the employment of the men secure. It is a great hardship for a man get his family and household goods into the city, start his children to school and suddenly be discharged or ald off for some trivial thing."

The organizer then produced the following statement in answer to the no-tice of the company which was printed in vester lay's Tribune.

Mr. Pratt's Statement.

First, it was previously known that Messrs W. P. Read and O. P. Arnold, officials of the street rallway company of this city, were opposed to their employees belonging to a union; that is what made it necessary to adopt the coupen and circular in order that the men would not be discharged summarily as soon as it was known by the company that they had joined the union.

The "uncanny bour" for holding the meeting is due to the fact that the men that they had joined the union.

The "uneamy bour" for holding the meeting is due to the fact that the men are compelled to work "uncamy hours" and owing to the obnexious swing runs which deprive the men of reasonable hours of rest and of an opportunity to meet together at any reasonable time. We are compelled to meet at this hour not from choice, but through force of circumstances over which we have no control.

Mr. Read raises the objection "that the organization is a foreign institution;" it will become a home institution as soon as the organization is completed. There seems to be no objection raised to the ms to be no objection raised to the estment of Eastern capital in street

Further, he speaks of "secrecy." We Further, he speaks of "secrecy." We will assure him that there is no more secrecy than there is in connection with the organization of his company, and he is welcome to a copy of the constitution and the laws that will govern our organization.

No Argument Here.

Mr. Read says: "At this stage of the novement we wish to say that we invite from you at all times conferences upon subject matters that you care to discuss with us fairly and broadly, that relate to your welfare and that will have a tendency to bring a close relationship and good fellowship and strengthen the confidence between yourselves and this company." We will accept Mr. Read's proposition verbatim and incorporate that in a written agreement if Mr. Read is willing. That is all that we are asking for, but we don't propose to have the proposition all one-sided and allow the men to go down to the office, walk in at the front om you at all times conferences upo shind all one-sided and allow the men to go down to the office, walk in at the front door and state their grievance and be kicked out at the rear door as a reward for the same. I am informed by the em-ployees that something like 46 men have been discharged in a little over one month's time.

ployees that something like 46 men have been discharged in a little over one month's time.

Mr. Arnold is credited with saying that many of the men do not want an organization. There is certainly no compulsion about their joining; this has been a voluntary movement on their part, so if Mr. Arnold has so much confidence in the matter, he need not feel worrled, for we don't want any one who does not care to join of his own accord.

He further speaks of the wages paid to the men. I can assure you that it is among the poorest paid railroad systems in the United States, whereas it ought to be one of the best. In the city of Butte, Mont., the motormen and conductors receive as high as 40 cents per hour and they only work nine hours a day straight time, that is there are no swings or layovers like there are here where men have to cover about 14 or 16 hours' time in order to get pay for 9 or 10 hours' work. If the company will guarantee all of the men the wages they specify are being paid to one or two individuals whom they have signaled out, for a 9-hour work day (and that is long enough for any man to stand upon those cars and preserve his health) I think I can safely assure them that we will sign a contract to work for those wages and feel very grateful.

Ready to Join Hands.

Ready to Join Hands.

Mr. Arnold says "so far as he can see there is no occasion for the organization of the character set forth in the circular, etc." The cicular did not specify what the character of the union would be other than that it was the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, and, in regard to that organization I wish to say that there have been issued 357 charters to organizations of this kind in other cities, and in Chicago atone we have a membership of upward of 10,000. If organization has been beneficial to these 357 cities, what reason is there to believe it would not be beneficial here? If the company desires to be as fair and frank with their employees as they say they do, the union will gladly fold hads with them them will gladly fold hads with them them.

cas fair and frank with their employees as they say they do, the union will gladly join hands with them in carrying out that believe.

Besides, this is a beneficial organization and there is no corporation in this present age of the world that can successfully deny that organization is an essential element to the success of any body of men whose aims and objects are to improve and better their condition morally, socially and intellectually, as well as fanancially. It is the necessity of the age.

HELD DID NOT come up to his customary high standard in the concert last night, yet this does not mean that the misic was not of a good class. The audience, a house full, was not in a mood for classical music. This was proved by the fact that a comic medley and 'Bedella' were the only hand numbers encored. Prof. Scheitler carried off the honors of the evening with his guitar. He was on the programme for two numbers, but was compelled to give four, and even then the audience was clamoring for more. Another number that gave pleasure was the quartette by Emmerman, Mackey, Leslie and Stevens. Miss Thalia Price acquitted herself to the satisfaction of a large portion of the analeuce, as demonstrated by the applause. In view of the warm weather, that has arrived, a wise suggestion would be to cut out the heavy nusic.

TRUE MAN WITH A GREAT HEART

Such Was the Estimate of Dennis Dr. L. D. Lamkin Begins His Series Eichnor, Expressed by Friends at Funeral.

"A true, genuine man, with a great Such was the estimate of Dennis Clay Eichnor, late District Attorney and beloved citizen; as communicated to the Ray. Benjamin Young through the medium of a letter of introduction written by college classmate of the man whose un timely death all Salt Lake mourns, and the words were made the keynote of the cloquent tribute paid by the pastor at the funeral services held yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist cleurch.

That the friend's retimate of the dead man was correct, the pastor said, was proven by the success with which Mr. Elchnor had met in politics and in his profession, by the esteem in which he was held in the community, as evidenced by the demonstration at the final obsequies, and, best proof of all, by the fact that he was a home man—a man who held as a home man— a man who held bove all else in this world the happiness is his own family. This trait, the speak-r held, was the controlling one of the rand character so much admired—the grand character so much one which largely accoun gely accounted for other which endeared him to characteristics which endeared him to those with whom he came in contact in every walk of life. The man who loves home is likely to be true to every trust, as was Dennis Elehnor; he must be a man of high Ideals and one who will perform great deeds and honest service in striving to live up to those ideals.

The pastor spoke feelingly of the loss sustained by the family and the community in the death of Dennis Elehnor, drawing from the drawing trust the circumstance of the ardrawing from the circumstance of the ap-parently unfinished life of one whose loss is so keenly felt, whose living was of so the only rational explanation of seeming incongruides in this life being that there is an Infinite Mind which shapes all things is an Infinite Mind which snapes as for the final good of all.

Sorrowing friends filled the large nuditorium of the First M. E. church to overflowing to tender their last tribute of love to the deceased and of sympathy to love to the deceased and of sympathy to be a lower family. "No other man be pennic."

the bereaved family "No other man in the city had so many frieinds as Dennis Eichnor," has been a common remark since his sudden death last Friday, and the truth of the statement was attested by the air of universal mourning which characterized his funeral. The service was simple and impressive, the only outward display, aside from the great outpouring of people and the expressions of grief which they could not hide, having been in the wealth of floral offerings, brought by loving friends, which covered both easket and chance!

"Asleep in Jesus" and "Lead Thou Me on" were sung by a quariette consisting of Messes, Graham, Evans, Davis and Copiey, and an appropriate sole was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Peters. The Utah Bar association and the Young men's Republican club attended the funeral in a body. Business and professional men generally were there in large numbers. The pall-bearers were Judge Charles W. Morse, Judge S. W. Stewart, County Attorney George Westervell, D. N. Straup, A. L. Hoppaugh and J. U. Eidredge Jr. The body laid in state at the home from 12 to 1:29, giving many friends the last opportunity to look upon the features of the one who had passed beyond. The interment was in the family plot in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Offivet cemetery.

CALLING SINNERS TO REPENTANCE

of Revival Services at the First Baptist.

"Christianity is a science, whose purpose is to regulate each individual heart and direct each individual life to the end for which God designed it." This striking phrase was the proclamation of Dr. L. D. Lamkin, the famous evangelist, who is here for ter days to conduct a series of revival meetings in the First Baptist church. The sermon was delivered to a crowded congregation last night. Dr. Lamkin is an earnest speaker, with a good de livery. He is eloquent, and his subject matter, judging from his discourse of yesterday evening, is just the right kind of preaching for his purpose, for at the end of the service twelve people came up declaring their intention of acting up to the spirit of the sermon for the fu-

The text was taken from the first book of Chronicles in the twenty-ninth chapter, at the fifth verse: "Who then, is willing this day to consecrate his service to the Lord". In the course of his sermon Dr. Lamkin emphasized the nature of the serv-ice to which God called his people. "It s chiefly to carry his message of divine grace and love to a dying world. It must be a willing service. It must be an immediate service. You can not postpone the saving of your soul, you can not say 'It will do later,' or I have no time to think of that now. If it is the right kind of spirit that moves you there will be not the slightest inclination to procrastinate for one instant, you ust come immediately.

"In the third place it must be a consecrated service. The real inner mean-ing of the consecration of the service must be emphasized by the complete-ness of the rendering of oneself to one's Creator. So few of those who call themselves Christians, and who in the depths of their hearts are sincerely con-vinced that they are real Christians are in any way consecrated. This reminds me of an anecdote that Dr. Granfell, the well known editor of the Baptist Standard in Texas, told me. In his early days he was editor, business manager and the whole staff of a little country paper in Indiana. It was a weekly publica-tion, and according to his own verdict, it was also a weakly publication, and many was the time when he would be glad of even a dog fight for a news tem. One day they received the news that a Mr. Jones, who was quite well known in the town, was very sick, so he made a paragraph to that effect. Just before going to press he heard news that Mr. Jones had died. So he sald to the printer: 'John, we'll have to alter that; just put in dead, instead of sick. So it was altered in that way When the paper came out, it read: 'Mr. Jones is lying at his house very dead.' In the course of my travels I have found that the Christians of the country are like Mr. Jones, they are dead, last point that the speaker made was that the service must be individual. In concluding, Dr. Lainkin urged all who were present to come to the meetings, and bring their friends. The noonday meetings will be held in the Mining Exchange at 12:15 and business men are specially urged to come. Dr. Lamkin has been especially renowned for the good results that he has ob-tained with business men, and is very anxious to get in touch with as many as possible during his stay in the city. For the 3 o'clock service today he announced that the subject would be "Obligation and Preparation for God's Service" He was especially desirous of having all present at the 8 o'clock service tonight, and promised that the sermon would be of great and vital interest. The subject will be "The Devil and Tom Walker."

At the morning service quiet was reserved without serious difficulty, but in the evening the disturbance assumed such proportions that the police found it necessary to make arrests Mrs. Kent White, the evangelist, who seems to be the cause of the split in the church; R. E. Beedleman, who is traveling with her, and J. A. Mrs. Kent White and Beedleman, her associate in evangelical work, belong to the Burning Bush sect, whose adherents, on account of the strenuous form of worship in which they indulge, are sometimes called "Holy Jumpers." It is charged that Mrs. White has been a cause of dissension in the Nazarene church in many places which she has visited, and that she made special efforts to disrupt the church in Los Angeles. She came to Salt Lake a week ago and was granted permission to conduct meetings for one week in the Nazarene church. Everything ran very smoothly until last Thursday night, when the woman made some reference to the Los Angeles church which was resented by a majority of the local church board and it was demanded that she be not permitted to preach again in the church. She insisted that she would preach, however, and in this she was supported by at least one member of the official board, Mr.

unsuccessful attempt was made Friday night to prevent Mrs. White from speaking, and on Saturday night the members opposing her remained away from the meeting, which was undisturbed. But yesterday morning the Rev. A. N. Brooks, pastor in charge, went to the church and, backed by a number of the members, insisted upon occupying the pulpit, claiming that the time for which Mrs. White had been granted permission to meetings had expired. It was then that the jumping and shouting pro-pensities of the Burning Bush people were brought into requisition rendering it impossible for the pastor to cor duct his services in the usual quiet way. But when an officer was called in he persuaded the disturbers to desist and the regular service was then carried out.

At the evening service the tactics resorted to at the morning meeting by Mrs. White and her followers were repeated with vigorous variations. Mrs White presided at the organ and led the singing while the pastor was trying to preach and pray, while Brother Beedleman leaped about the room, swinging stools and tables in the air in an ecstasy of religious fervor and shouting at the top of his voice. This performance led a crowd of hoodlums to join in the demonstration, with results that were anything but quieting to the nerves of peace-loving citizens who happened to be within a block of the hilarious scene. Again the police were called and those deemed the chief disturbers were taken away, after which Pastor Brooks again proceeded

I understand that they have been trying to induce some of the brethren here to sign over their property for the benefit of bible schools or something of that kind. I think if the Lord wanted them to give their property for such a cause he would tell them. The brother was tarred and feathered at Dillon, a short time ago, on account of alleged negations work. When the woman began to try to make trouble in the church here, as she had done elsewhere, we objected to her preaching any more. Brother Headlund was the only member of the offi-cial board of seventeen who upheld her. The address was an able raview of Mormon history of recent years, and a denial of the charge that the Book of Mormon teaches or advocates polygamy. The speaker maintained that the contrary was the case; that the Book of Mornon taught with the Bible that one husband should have one wife and one wife one husband. President Smith said that the members of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were firm believers in the laws of God and of his guidance of the affairs of this country, and were therefore loyal citithis country, and were therefore loyal citizens because of their adherence to the

this country, and were therefore toyal citizens because of their adherence to the teachings of God.

Another able address was that of Apostie Herman C. Smith of Lamoine, Ia., who is well known as an orator. Many persons were deceptly affected by Apostle Smith a eloquent address and shed tears. He spoke to the text: "I have come that thou might have life and have it more abundantly."

Besides the sermons there were proper.

Deep interest in manifested in the proceedings of the conference and the attendance is increasing today, there being already more delegates presents than expected. The conference will continue probably until next Thursday.

A feature of today's proceedings was the unusually large number of persons named Smith taking part in the several pertions of the day's proceedings, more than a dozen speakers, singers or presiding officers of that name being on the programme.

BIG ICE GORGE

FLOODS MONTREAL

MONTREAL, April 10.-Montreal is experiencing a serious flood. A large quantity of ice came down from Lake St. Louis and jammed up against the Vic-toria bridge. In a few minutes the wa-ter began to rise and in a short time it had reached the top of the dyke built after the last great flood and which had been, up to the present time, a sufficient been, up to the present time, a sufficient protection. All the teams that could be pressed into service were engaged in strengthening and raising the dyke. At 6 o clock the water had reached a depth of six feet on the streets. It is now failing, but the danger is by no means over yet as there is more ice to come down.

Three thousand people in the village of Three thousand people in the village of Verdun, adjoining the limits of Montreal, are tonight living in the upper stories of their houses, while several thousand more who reside in the part of the city known as Point St. Charles are in dan-

AFTER THE N. P.

"Mr. Harriman undoubtedly is trying to secure control of the Northern Pacific. That is easy enough for one to see."
According to the Denver Post, J. J. Hull himself made this statement on Saturday.
In an interview regarding the Northern Securities case.

In an interview regarding the Securities case.

"However, the States through which the Oregon Short Line and the Northern Pacific run, are unanimously opposed to such ownership, and I presume he would be prevented from accomplishing his purpose by those laws."

Asked whether Mr. Harriman would secure control of the road in the event that the court should sustain his views regarding the redistribution of Great Northern and Northern Pacific stock, Mr. Hill replied: "In my opinion, he would not."

SUBSIDY FOR ROAD TO GOLD FIELDS

British Columbian Government Promises Aid to Important Railway Project.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 10.-In reply to representatives of the British Columbia, Northern & MacKenzie Valley Ballway company, who asked if the British Columbia Government would supplement the Dominion Government's subsidy to the railway by a substantial provincial subsidy Premier McBride replied that if the company would deposit a guarantee forcompany would deposit a guarantee forfeit fund of $25,00 to insure the building of the railway within a specified time, his Government would make the British Columbia, Northern & MacKenglo Valley railway project the third of the railway measures to be dealt with at a stecial summer session of the Legislature next June, when a situable subsidy, in proportion to that granted by the Dominion Government, will be passed.

The company's agents telegraphed Jules Simon & Co. of Chicago, agents for Speyer & Co. of New York, London and Paris, asking if this were agreeable to the principals. A reply has been received that it is, providing the Dominion subsidy be satisfactory.

The new railway will traverse British Columbia's northern gold fields, touching the Peace, Laird. Stickene, Skeena and other famed gold-bearing streams, either by main line or branches, and give direct railway communication with Dawson City, as well as Port Simpson, which is expected to besome soon the great part for Orjental steamships.

The new line is to connect with the Grand Trunk Pacific in the Pine river or Tete Jeune passes. It is the most important railway project ever mooted in the American Northwest. The project is backed by immense financial resources. ompany would deposit a guarantee for-cit fund of $26,000 to insure the building

HILL MAY RETIRE IF HARRIMAN WINS

Special to The Tribune. ST PAUL, Minn., April 10 -In an inter-ST.PAUL, Minn., April 10—In an interview published here today, President James J. Hill of the Great Northern rallway is quoted as saying that if E. H. Harriman wins his suit for control of the Northern Pacific rallway, that he will retire from the rallway business. Nobody here believes that Harriman will win and few that Hill will retire if he does.

Making Tour of Harriman Lines. . H. Making Tour of Harriman Lines, a OMAHA, Neb. April 10.—Jullus Kruttschnitt spent today in Omaha, en route to St. Louis where he will meet E. H. Harriman. At St. Louis the party will start for a tour of the Harriman lines, going first to New Orleans, thence west on the Southern Pacific. The party from St. Louis will include President Harriman, John N. Hill. Stuyvesant Fish, J. H. Burthorn, Mr. Kruttschnitt and a number of other prominent railrond men.

Mr. Kruttschnitt said that no other official changes were contemplated on the Harriman lines, all vacancies having been filled.

Mr. Kruttschnitt added that the tour of the system from New Orleans had no par-ticular significance. He also said that the general auditing department, over which Erastus Young has charge, would not be removed to Chicago, at least for the present.

Railroad Notes

A. S. Dodge, freight traffic manager of the 'Frisco system, has been elected third vice-president and traffic director, Negotiations have been reopened by the uses Memphis freight bureau to induce the Cutton Belt to continue its Memphis business. It is hoped that a compromise mayourse be effected.

he effected.

A. J. Crosier, who for twelve years has been station agent in the service of the Rio Grande Western at Salina, resigned and was succeeded last week by E. M. Peyton. The latter has for some time been at the station at Price.

According to both Burlington and Union Pacific railroad officials in Omaha, the fight now being waged between Hill and Harriman over the distribution of the Northern Securities company's holdings is really for control of the Northern Pacific. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific Jointly own the Burlington and should the stock now held by the Northern Securities be distributed as Harriman wishes, the holdings of Union Pacific together with recent purchases would give Harriman control of the Burlington through the Northern Pacific.

H. C. Wagener, traveling passenger through the Northern Pacific.

H. C. Wagener, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, is a guest at the Kenyon, on his way through to the coast. As H. C. Wagener, he is well known in railroad circles, and is on of the most popular of the boys. But as "Happy Cal" Wagener, one of the best-known minstrels in the United States, he is well-known in every large town in the Union, and correspondingly popular with all those who ever sat and laughed at his quipes and enjoyed his singing. Mr. Wagener prefers to talk as a railroad man, and gives one to understand that the old days behind the lights are old days. But when he gets warmed up he has many a jovial ameedote and many interesting reminiscences of many people well known in Stageland.

BILLION DOLLAR HEALTH TALK IN NEW YORK

Health Commissioner Gives Some Stunning Figures Touching on Preventable Diseases,

ALBANY, N. Y., April 19.—Millions upon millions of dollars annually lost to the people of the State of New York through preventable diseases is the keynote of the annual report of State Health Commissioner Lewis to the Governor, made public today. If the monetary value of a human life is assumed to be worth $500, said Dr. Lewis, 'the deaths from but five of the preventable diseases during 1991 in this State represents a loss of $31,950,000. These figures seem appailing, and yet millions upon millions can properly be added to this sum in loss of wages, expense of the care of the sick and many other exponses incidental to the management of these epidemics and infectious diseases."

The commissioner shows that there was vast opportunity and abundant authority to meet conditions, but absurdly insufficient appropriations with which to perform the peccessary work, for which be believes a million dollars a year could be used with advantage to the people of the
